To Whom It May Concern,

It is with much enthusiasm that I am writing this personal recommendation for Yuning to support his application to a new position with you. Yuning has worked with Deloitte Risk Advisory (RA) as an intern from last October to December in 2018 and has been a delight to have on one of the teams that I lead.

As an intern in our department, Yuning devoted most of the time of his internship to following one project for one of our clients which is a listed company. Working with other members of the team, he was collecting, organizing and studying the relevant materials since the project started and all the way to preparing project as the project approached completion.

On communication with his supervisors, I have acknowledged that Yuning became a valued member of the team as he quickly grew to work independently on multiple different kinds of tasks given and became responsible for some of the management modules involved in the project while keeping up with the rapid pace of work.

In closing, I would like to reiterate my support for Yuning's application for his first formal position. And I am confident that Yuning will bring the same drive and dedication to your organization that he brought to Deloitte RA.

Please contact me at the email or phone number listed here if you need any additional information.

Best regards,
